Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTIONDouble Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-14 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-13 of U.S. Patent No. 6612669. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both sets of claims teach a collapsible shelf unit comprising a three-sided frame, said frame having a back and opposed sides hingedly connected to the back at opposite edges of the back, at least one shelf each shelf including a base panel which hingedly connected at opposite side edges of the base panel to an adjacent side of the frame and is also hingedly connected to the back of the frame, the base panel having wing portions which are hingedly connected to a central portion of the base panel, at least one support panel hingedly connected to the base panel, each support panel can be folded downwardly relative to the base panel to expand and hold the sides of the frame in an erect position, and the support panel can be hinged upwardly against the back of the frame and the sides of the frame folded inwardly toward one another to collapse the central portion of the base panel toward the back of same frame so as to permit folding the shelf unit into a generally flat collapsed state.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to King, Smith ('820), Ragsdale, Pinkstone et al, Smith ('959)Moss, Belokin et al, Velero, Stone, Maguire teach structure similar to applicant's.
